Georgia is a structural waterproofing expert, holding the CSSW “certified surveyor in structural waterproofing” qualification. Georgia is a senior specifications manager at Delta Membranes systems Ltd. And has experience with waterproofing & gas protection design.

With more and more subterranean structures being built, failed waterproofing has become the building insurers nightmare! With 14 million pound in claims rectifying failed basement waterproofing in the space of just one year.

Georgia will demonstrate to you through case studies a series of failed waterproofing situations that she has experienced during her day-to-day activities, and we will be looking at causes and rectification techniques.
