We are delighted to welcome Cate Birch and Lindsay Hogarth from the Centre of Excellence for Heritage Skills and Estate Management at York Minster to present the ambitions and capabilities of the Centre.

The Centre of Excellence is a first-of-its-kind world-class campus facility for research, education and training in traditional craft skills. It is crucial for helping to secure the environmental, financial and heritage sustainability of York Minster for many years to come.

The 'Constructors' are funding Jemina Davies, one of the first apprentices at The Centre and her early work will also be highlighted.
